Winemaker: Sebastien Philibert Audibert Region: South of France Location: Lambesc

Coteaux d'Aix-en-Provence Rosé

SEBASTIEN PHILIBERT AUDIBERT

Appellation:
Coteaux d'Aix-en-Provence

Varietals:
50% Syrah, 20% Grenache Noir, 20% Rolle, 10% Cinsault

Vinification:
Only free run juice is used and directly pressed with light maceration. Slow fermentation occurs at low temperature in stainless steel tanks.

Vineyard/Terroir:
A 2.5 Hectare plot on southeast-facing hillside terraces. The vines grow on clay, limestone, and stony soil.

Farming:
Organic and biodynamic practices

Ageing: Partially fermented in barrel. Partial aging in barrels followed by a short aging on lees, the remainder in stainless steel tank

About the winemaker:
Located in the center of the Pays d'Aix, Château de Calavon is without a doubt the oldest winery in the village of Lambesc, which has been famous for its wines since the Middle Ages, when it was ruled by the Prince d'Orange. Today, over 50 hectares of vines are organically farmed and vinified by the Audibert family, who have been the owners and winemakers at the Château de Calavon for five generations.